

Turning Point: General Meeting Format for College

(Copyright Jinku Jung <S00059857> 2026)

--First 30 Minutes: Listen to Fox News Channel or Radio:

--Good for ESL/TOEFL students for current events: what not to do in America today.

--Informative.

--Teaches “honing”: comprehension of spoken English at a college-level or above.

--Last 30 Minutes:

--Reflection of current events of the broadcast they just heard.

--Formation or discussion of how that affects their “My To Do List” per person: must be relatively immutable for a 90-day period at a time to build Joe Namath’s consistency metric.

--Showing of thanks or prayer at the end of the meeting for what we hope to do for the following week aloud.

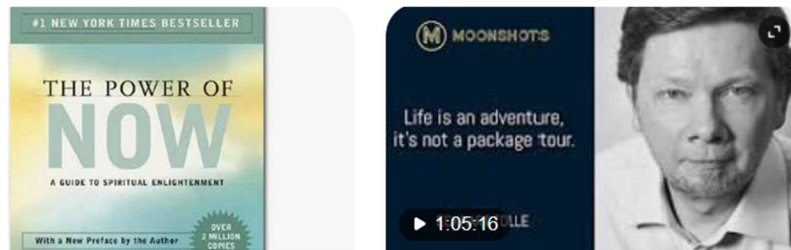

Turning Point: Operation Republican MindRock

--Mindfulness Training:

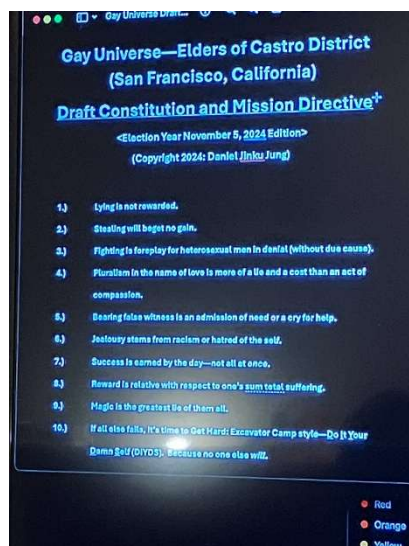

--Shivambu urotherapy and discussion of karmic consequence with respect to English Common Law or Ohio Revised Code: PM Rishi's 2024 Year.

--Body hardening: Tonfa-style doll rods to build hit-tolerance over time (Orange Belt and above). Do not target pressure points or the skull, throat, or groin:

--Grapple and hold reversal training and practice: arm and leg bars practiced and tolerated for a 10-30 second hold and pause. Do not injure fellow students and exacerbate panic amongst students put into grapple holds. The fight is not over: endure and withstand compression shear, stress, and strain upon the self. However, do not resist arrest or restraint from law enforcement or military police—a “do not fight” condition stressed and emphasized. The assumption then is the person is doing something wrong: STOP—cease and desist your wrongdoing immediately:

--Consequences discussed and demonstrated for the illegal use of martial arts at work or school: everyone knows as common and accepted knowledge. Additionally, Ohio Revised Code State Law applies to most dojos, and this discipline is legally allowed in limited circumstances:

--Republican Advocacy Training:

--Being a good Republican in the community: what not to do.

--Being overtly racist: shouting racial epithets aloud anywhere.

--Being overtly discriminatory: only helping or holding doors for certain demographics of people.

--Being overly helpful to the unfortunate: giving excess money to panhandlers or personally identifiable information such as your home address and telephone number.

--Being a good Republican in the community: what to do.

--Stand Your Ground if attacked or threatened (Ohio, Texas, or Florida): defense in depth in accordance with a response to the force commensurate presented as an active threat or physical harm: varies. Note: this does not allow for ex post facto retaliation or “get back moves” (Black Vernacular English) an hour, day, week, month, year, or decade after the event in question.

--Complete your “My To Do List” faithfully each day and pray for guidance in decision-making for the next yet to transpire the following morning.

--If you finish all tasks on “My To Do List” and are compliant with your general calendar or Microsoft Outlook schedule for the day, enjoy the greatest reward of them all: bed rest without tax or duty demanded.
